Self Definition

I'm a driven and ambitious person with a strong passion for technology and a desire to set foot in the IT industry. During my studies at Codecool, I had the opportunity to gain valuable experience in teamwork and collaboration. Working closely with my peers and mentors, I actively engaged in group projects that required effective communication, coordination, and problem-solving skills. Outside of my professional pursuits, you can often find me actively participating in various sports activities and following the world of technological advances.
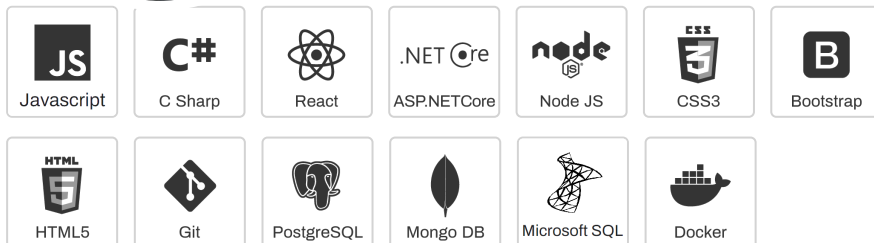

Strength

I have experience in developing full-stack applications and I love expressing my creativity through the process. I also have experience in Git version control, Docker, CI/CD and databases. Communication and teamwork are strong suits of mine, and I welcome constructive criticism as an opportunity for growth. Continuously learning and staying updated with industry advancements are essential to me.

Mentor Opinion

"Péter consistently delivered a good quality work during his time at Codecool. He is willing to ask questions and open for feedback to improve his skills. He is extremely reliable: have not even been late once during his entire year. His teammates enjoy working with him. He will be a solid member of any software developer team as a junior, and will grow rapidly to medior level."

— Kornél Regius, mentor
